

Dallas Pounds

Chief Executive Officer, Royal Trinity Hospice

Dallas has been Chief Executive at Royal Trinity Hospice since 2013. She is a nurse by training and spent much of her early career working in specialist palliative and end of life care. Dallas has held a range of executive level positions in the NHS and in recent years in the charity sector. She is passionate about equality and diversity and changing society's relationship with death and dying.

Under her leadership Royal Trinity Hospice has become an exemplar of good practice in supporting hard to reach groups and in promoting diversity and inclusion in the workplace. Trinity have a level 2 Investors in Diversity accreditation from the National Centre for Diversity and are Stonewall Diversity Champions.

